

PHARMACEUTICAL & IT SCIENTIST

A versatile, highly talented and resource-oriented professional with over 20 years of teaching and research in pharmaceutical sciences, tertiary education department leader and experienced presentation skills in basic and applied pharmaceutical contents, research, and project implementation. Recently trained in health informatics and computer programming for advanced data analytics & visualization. Seeking career transition to mid-level and senior cadre career in healthcare data analytics for actionable insights and business intelligence.